How customers find Ali's C Store today

And a simple plan to make sure people nearby can find you, and choose you.

Prepared for Ali's C Store · 1048 Kern St, Taft, CA · September 2026

The short version

When someone in Taft searches "smoke shop near me" on their phone, they pick a shop from what Google shows them. Right now, your shop is hard to find online, and the shop down the street is easier to find.

The good news is that the customers who do review you love you. You just need more people to see that.

What I found

No website

There's no site where people can see your hours, what you carry, or how to get there.

Google listing not set up by you

Your info online comes from other websites that copied it. You don't control what they say.

Hours not listed

People don't know if you're open, so they go where they know the doors are open.

Great reviews, just not many

6 reviews, all 5 stars, on a smoke-shop directory site. Customers like you.

You vs. the shop down the street

On the same smoke-shop directory site:

	ALI'S C STORE	FRED'S CIGARETTE STORE
Reviews	6	85+
Hours shown	No	Yes, 7 AM – 11 PM
Own website	No	No
Distance	About half a mile apart

A new customer comparing the two sees 85 reviews and posted hours on one side, and almost nothing on the other. Most people pick the one that looks open and trusted, even when your shop is better.

Neither of you has a real website yet. That's your opening: whoever sets it up properly first stands out.

Let's check together right now: open Google Maps on your phone and search "smoke shop Taft." What shows up first? Does your shop show your hours and photos?

Why this matters

- People decide on their phone before they drive. If they can't see your hours or what you carry, they skip you.
- Reviews are trust. More reviews means more people willing to try you.
- You can't count on advertising. Google and Facebook heavily restrict tobacco and vape ads. Your free Google listing and your own website are the main ways new customers can find you.
- Other sites are describing your business for you. Taking control means the right hours, phone number, and photos everywhere.

The plan

1. Get your Google listing under your control. Claim it, verify it (takes a few minutes with you there), and fill it out: correct hours, phone, categories, and real photos of your store that I take.
2. Build your own website. Your products, hours, directions, and answers to common questions, made for phones. Your domain name is registered in your name.
3. Start collecting reviews. A small card on your counter with a QR code. Customers scan it and leave a Google review in about 20 seconds.
4. Fix your info everywhere. The same name, address, phone, and hours on Apple Maps, Bing, Yelp, and the smoke-shop directories.
5. Keep it working, and show you the results. Every month I update your listing, answer changes you need, and give you a one-page report: calls, direction requests, website visits, and new reviews.

Most of this is live in about 3–4 weeks.

What it costs

Get Chosen (everything in the plan above)

~~$3,400~~ $2,720 setup + $189/month

20% off because you'd be one of my first three shops. In return, I ask for an honest review of my work and permission to show your site as an example.

- Pay setup in 3 parts: $907 to start, $907 at launch, $906 30 days after launch.
- Monthly is month-to-month after the first 3 months. Or pay yearly: $2,079 (one month free).

Want to start smaller? Get Found covers steps 1 and 2 only: ~~$1,650~~ $1,320 setup + $69/month.

What you own: your domain name is in your name. If you ever cancel, you keep your site files.
What I won't promise: a #1 ranking or a set number of customers. Nobody can honestly promise that. What I will do is set everything up completely and correctly, and show you the real numbers every month so you can judge it yourself.
